EXHIBIT ATTACHMENT LIST

1. Copy of June 3, 2012 newspaper article about the START program inmates from Oakdale Prison Camp. This article covers an event that is common in the Central Louisiana Region for our team. The inmate pictured in the article delivering the message is me, Ceasar H. Cantu. I am personally committed to this program and helping kids stay off drugs and out of prison. I will continue this mission even after release through various ministries or whatever means may be available.

Y.O.U. students hear from federal inmates

It is easy for young people to turn a deaf ear to their parents, teachers, ministers, counselors and others who are trying to help them learn to make wise decisions. It is much more difficult to turn a deaf ear to those who are sharing their stories about their bad choices and the price they are now paying for their mistakes.

Recently, five inmates from the Oakdale Federal Detention Center met with Y.O.U. students, their parents, and younger siblings to present "A Day in My Life Behind Bars", describing their typical day which begins at 6 a.m.

YOU

With great passion and determination, the S.T.A.R.T. Team shared their spellbinding personal stories about the wrong choices they made and the consequences they are now experiencing as a result of these wrong choices. Their goal is to help these young people learn from the mistakes the men themselves made as youths and to prevent today's young people from going down the wrong path as the inmates did years before.
